

Stay At Home Practice Game Ideas

IDEAS:

- Remember, you may do each task as many times as you'd like!
- Have music from the "Listen" page on my website playing in the background while you have dinner and get points for listening. This way the whole family can enjoy it too!
- Listen to your lesson songs or music from the "Listen" page while studying.
- When you want to watch TV or relax, watch some of the videos on the "Watch" page. You can relax but also learn from great musicians and be inspired!
- Set a weekly performance date with your family and put on a little recital of some of your favorite songs. You get points for performance and offer some great entertainment for family time.
- Record a video of yourself playing once a week and send it out to your friends and family. You get points each time you send a video! This is a great way to stay in touch and share what you're up to.
- When you warm up each day, play your scales with perfect posture following the guidelines on the game and get points while practicing! (You should always be playing your scales like this anyway so these are just easy points, right?)
- Be sure to track what you're doing in your daily practice that overlaps with the game to get all your points! Are you clapping rhythms? Listening to your songs? Playing perfect scales?
- Add one new song to your practice each week from the "Sheet Music" page on my website, there you go! 5 points!
- Remember, you get game points for a lot of things that you do during your practice. Read through the game sheet and be sure to give yourself all those extra well earned points!
